SITUATION SUMMARY

911 Outage, Big Sur

- There has been a fiber cut in the Big Sur area that affects 1,060 AT&T landline and cellular customers only.
- AT&T users in the Big Sur area cannot call 911 from AT&T land lines & cell phones.
- An AT&T crew is on location so Fiber Crews can begin laying new cable and begin splicing work.
- The isolation was caused by a fiber cut caused by a goffer chewing through the cable and not a farmer plowing as originally reported. The fiber affected is between the Big Sur office and the Tandem office.
- The Monterey County PSAP and EOC are not affected. There is no estimated time of restoration. CUEA is aware.

Fleet Week, San Francisco, San Francisco County

Fleet Week activities began Monday, October 5th and run through October 12th. Activities include the Blue Angels performing, parade of ships on the Bay and ship tours.

WEATHER

WEATHER SYNOPSIS BY REGION:

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA AND CENTRAL COASTAL AREAS:

Eureka Weather:

Dry and seasonably warm weather will persist in the interior through Friday as high pressure aloft remains over the region. Low clouds will likely persist near the immediate coast for the next day or two with some sunshine by each afternoon.

Medford Weather:

High clouds are streaming across the region this morning along with low clouds and fog along the coast and over the coastal waters.

Reno Weather:

High pressure over the region will lead to warm and dry conditions the rest of the week. Afternoon highs may approach record levels Friday and Saturday. Dry conditions persist into early next week with clouds increasing by mid-week.

San Francisco Weather:

Dry weather conditions will persist over the region along with a gradual warming trend through late week as high pressure builds over the state. Temperatures will hold steady through the weekend as the ridge flattens and zonal flow develops aloft.

WEATHER

WEATHER SYNOPSIS BY REGION:

CENTRAL CALIFORNIA AND SOUTHERN SAN JOAQUIN VALLEY:

Sacramento Weather:

High pressure dominates the region this week with temperatures returning to above average.

Hanford Weather:

An upper level ridge of high pressure will build over central California during the next few days and bring dry weather with a day to day warming trend through Saturday.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA:

Los Angeles Weather:

A building ridge of high pressure will bring a warming trend through the end of the week. Triple digit heat is possible for inland areas on Friday and Saturday when light offshore winds are expected. Cooler weather is likely early next week along with a slight chance of showers as low pressure approaches from the south.

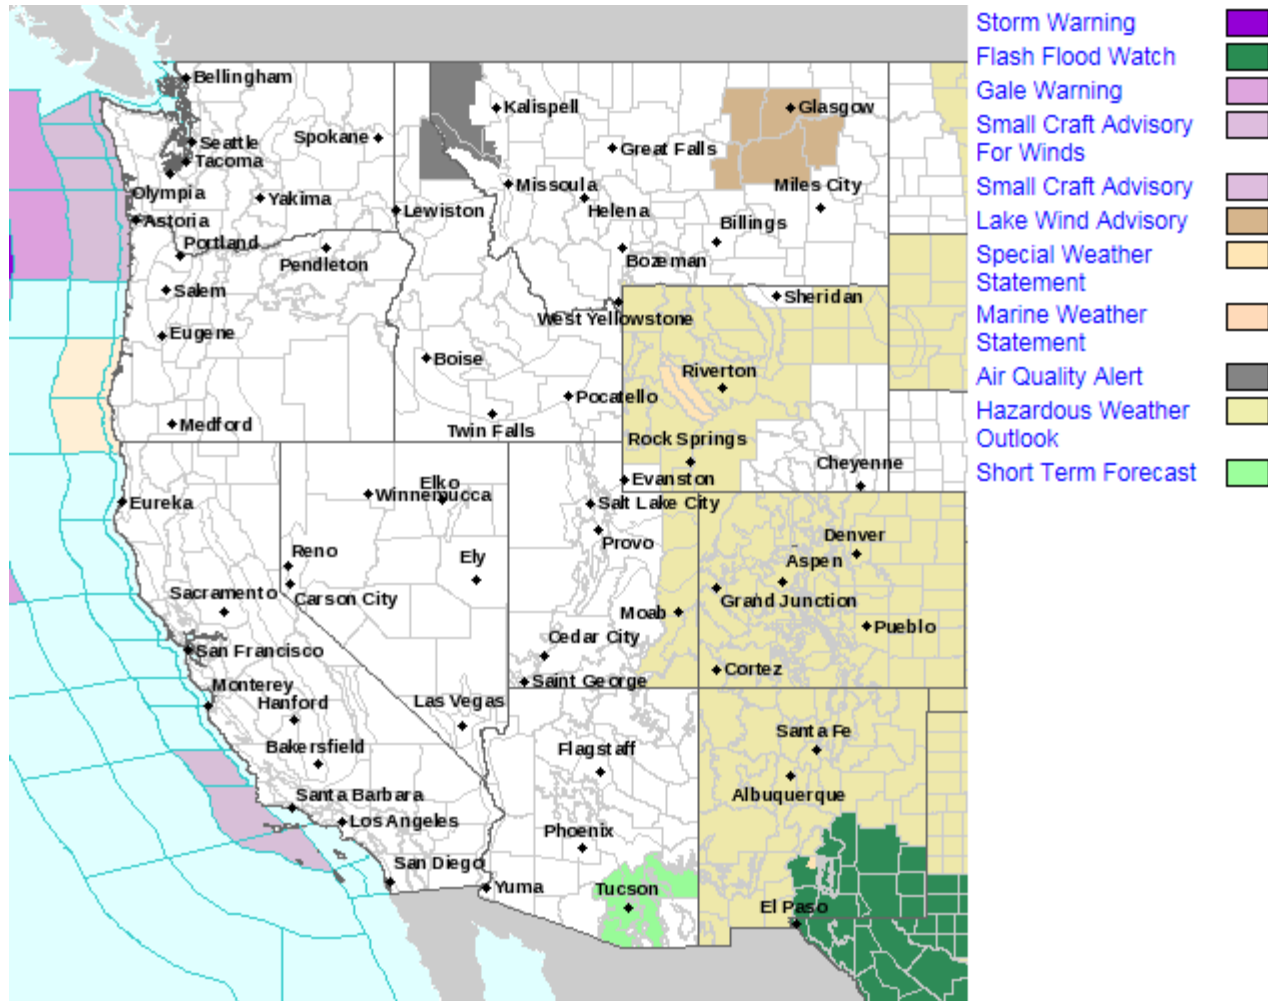

Extreme Southwestern California including Orange, San Diego, Western Riverside and Southwestern San Bernardino Counties:

High pressure aloft will build the rest of this week and bring a warming trend and fair weather. Patchy night and morning low clouds will occur through Thursday in coastal areas with some fog possible in the interior valleys this morning. It will become quite hot in most areas from Friday through Sunday with a cooling trend beginning early next week as a low pressure system approaches our region from the south. Some showers or thunderstorms are possible by Tuesday or Wednesday of next week.

Southeast California Weather:

Decreasing moisture and cloudiness is anticipated to start today as a low pressure system begins moving east of the area. Expect mainly clear skies from Thursday onward into early next week with temperatures climbing back to above normal values by late in the week.

New Cal OES Missions

2015-LAW-18704-10/6/15, 0923 hours - Marin County Sheriffs Office requested several evidence K9 and 25 Type II / III search & rescue personnel related to a homicide. LDO was coordinated resources from the California Department of Fish & Wildlife and secured 1 evidence K9, Sonoma, Napa and Contra Costa Counties provide ground search personnel. A specific area along a roadway was identified as a area of interest in locating potential evidence. Search efforts provided additional clues, all resources were released. Mission Closed

2015-LAW-18702, 10/06/15, 1010 hours: On October 4, 2015, a hiker on a 26-day trail hike on the John Muir trail, Mt. Whitney, was overcome by a sudden snow storm and forced to shelter in place. The hiker eventually activated his Delorme device by texting his wife. As the hiker was sheltering in place he was ultimately snowed in (Lat. / Long: 35.5633N, -118.2785W). The hiker reported via texting he was going to need assistance as he was beginning to suffer from cold weather related injuries including frostbite of his extremities. The hiker's wife notified Inyo County Sheriff who initiated a Search and Rescue mission. Due to the severe weather snow storm, Inyo was unable to safely insert SAR personnel and began hiking to the injured hiker's location which was at an altitude over 10,000'. On October 6, 2015, at approximately 1010 hours, Inyo Sheriff notified the LDO requesting SAR mutual aid assistance from China Lake Mountain Rescue, Kern County. China Lake Mountain Rescue sent (4) Mountain Rescue Team Type 1 rescuers with snow capability to the Inyo County Sheriff Incident Command Post - Lone Pine Airport, Inyo County. UPDATE: 1600 hours, a CHP H40 helicopter was able to safely insert SAR rescuers onto the trail to begin hiking to the injured hiker. During the rescue, a clear weather window opened and a CHP H82 was able to extract the hiker from the mountain. The hiker was transported to a local hospital with cold weather related injuries. CHP aerial support returned to extract the SAR team from the mountain. Mission Closed

2015-LAW-18746 - 10/6/15, 1809 hours - Nevada County Sheriffs Office (NCSO) requested 5 Human Remains Detection K9 (HRD K9) to search a 7 acre parcel for a 5 1/2 month old fetus. The area is describe as heavily wood with the fetus being buried on the property. LDO coordinated with the Cal OES K9 Coordinator and secured 2 HRD K9 for the search, NCSO was able to secure 1 HRD K9. LDO was notified by NCSO (2111 hours) that the search was suspended until further. Mission Suspended
